Mary Helen Kelly to receive Senior Inspiration Award

Mary Helen Kelly, lifelong volunteer and former first lady of Palm Desert, is being recognized as Palm Desert's honoree at the 2016 Riverside County Senior Inspiration Awards.

Born in Okemah, Oklahoma, and raised in El Monte, California, Mary Helen Akin worked on her father's goat farm as a young girl, rising daily before 4 a.m. to milk the goats and then rushing home from school each afternoon to milk again as part of her evening chores.

In high school, she met a young athlete named Richard Kelly who was impressed by her beauty and her keen mind. After graduation, she attended UCLA while working as a governess to support her studies in International Affairs and History.

Then World War II broke out and Richard was eventually called up for service. The young couple decided to marry before he shipped off, cementing a bond that would last for the next 65 years.

During that time, Mary Helen raised two children while volunteering for a variety of charitable organizations including the Lutheran Women's Missionary League, Campfire Girls, and Rotary Anns. Periodic stints as a substitute teacher eventually gave way to full time employment at Bank of America as a way to help pay for the children's college education.

In 1978, the Kelly's moved to Palm Desert starting a family love affair with that community that persists to this day.

Five years later, Richard "Dick" was elected to the Palm Desert City Council where he served for the next 27 years until his death in 2010, including six terms as Mayor. A valued partner and advisor to her husband, Mary Helen continued to volunteer with Rotary as well as at Trinity Lutheran Church, the Chamber of Commerce, and the East Valley Republican Women Federated.

Today, at age 91, she continues to volunteer at her church while serving as a member of the City of Palm Desert's Parks and Recreation Commission.

Kelly will be honored at a special Senior Inspiration Awards luncheon on Friday, March 25, at the JW Marriott Desert Springs Resort and Spa. For more information, please call 760-863-8211.

Film Series concludes With compelling Documentaries

The 2016 Palm Desert Public Art Documentary Film Series continues on March 17 with a free screening of Beyond These Walls: Building Community through Public Art.

In 1992, a small group of community leaders in Portsmouth, Ohio asked, "How can we create pride in our community, improve the local economy, and change a dying part of town into the vibrant place it once was?" This film tells the story of the local visionaries and extraordinary artists who transformed a drab, 2,200-foot section of floodwall into a vast display of public art, history, and pride.

The evening will include a screening of Murals: Transformations. This short, nine-minute documentary tells the story of how the Palm Springs Unified School District started and maintains a thriving mural program, with a collection of over 80 murals. Louisa Castrodale, Arts Coordinator for the Palm Springs Unified School District, will be the evening's featured speaker.

The popular series of free public art-themed documentary films concludes on April 21 with A Model for Matisse.

Directed by Barbara Freed, the film documents the association between the nun Sister Jacques-Marie and Henri Matisse. Their relationship began when she started working as his personal nurse, but she soon began posing for the painter. Eventually, Sister Jacques-Marie played a critical role in helping Matisse design the Chapelle du Rosaire, one of the greatest accomplishments in the famous artist's remarkable career. Emily Culhan, Programs Coordinator for Children's Discovery Museum of the Desert, will be the featured speaker.

The film series is presented by the City of Palm Desert Public Art Department and the University of California, Riverside Palm Desert Graduate Center. All films screen the third Thursday of the month at 6 p.m. in the auditorium at UCR Palm Desert, 75080 Frank Sinatra Drive. Each screening will include a featured speaker who will answer questions about that night's film. Admission is free, but reservations are recommended. For more information and reservations, please call the City's Public Art Department at 760-837-1663 or register online at <http://palmdesert.ucr.edu/programs/ArtDoc2016.html>.

You Can Help Us Provide New homes for Veterans

The City of Palm Desert is committed to supporting our military and their families in achieving the dream of first-time, affordable home ownership.

In keeping with that commitment, the City donated land for the construction of two homes for veterans in Palm Desert.

One home will be fully accessible for a disabled veteran and the other home will be fully adaptable, depending on the needs of the veteran and his or her family.

Last September, the City, in partnership with Habitat for Humanity of the Coachella Valley and the Home Depot Foundation, hosted a "Wall Standing Event" for the construction of the two homes. Now, the homes are nearly done, but still require some finishing touches.

You can help by donating money to help pay to finish construction of the homes or by donating needed materials.

Because these are homes for veterans with particular needs, construction requires specific and specialized building materials in a variety of categories including flooring, landscaping, accessibility features, appliances, cabinets, and showers.

Your generosity will help deliver keys for a new home to those who have sacrificed so much for their country and our freedom.

To donate and for more information, including a detailed list of needed construction materials, please call Habitat for Humanity of the Coachella Valley at 760-969-6917.

Experience inspiring vocal artistry in a beautiful setting at the seventh annual Festival of Opera and Art on Sunday, March 20, from 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., at the Civic Center Park amphitheater.

The theme of this year's program is "All the World's a Stage: An Operatic Grand Tour."

The day's fun kicks off at 11 a.m. with a special musical presentation featuring jazz, followed by a sound check with the singers and orchestra at noon. Beginning at 1 p.m., keyboardist Gale Enger will provide entertainment until 1:50 p.m. when Festival organizers will honor Brian Webb with a special award. The Opera program begins at 2 p.m.

In addition to the wonderful music, there will be art displays and interactive activities for all including face painting, magic, and crafts for children lead by representatives from S.C.R.A.P. Gallery.
